

JUST LIKE FINE WINE, PETS IMPROVE WITH AGE...

NOVEMBER IS
"ADOPT A SENIOR PET"
MONTH. WHAT BETTER WAY
TO CELEBRATE THAN TO OPEN
YOUR HOME AND HEART TO A VERY DESERVING SENIOR
ANIMAL? HERE ARE JUST A FEW (OF COUNTLESS)
REASONS WHY SENIORS
MAKE SUCH GREAT PETS!

What You See Is What You Get...

A degree of uncertainty always goes with the territory when adopting a puppy or kitten. It takes time to discover what their personalities will be, what behavioral issues will need to be addressed and, sometimes, how big they will get. With a senior pet, you know all of these things up front. Many times, you also have the benefit of having a housetrained animal, right from the start, as well as a medical history. So avoid the guesswork and go with a senior pet.

A Little Older, A Lot Wiser...

Senior pets didn't survive puppyhood and kittenhood without learning a thing or two. The typical destructiveness of a "youngster" is a thing of the past. If you have ever found an expensive pair of shoes chewed to bits by a teething puppy, you can appreciate the fact that seniors aren't interested in doing this. They can also focus very well, because they've mellowed. The old adage "you can't teach an old dog new tricks", simply isn't true. Seniors can, and do, learn lots of new things. Many times, seniors become star pupils in their obedience classes, even after years of neglect in their previous homes. When it comes to wisdom, senior pets can teach us all a lesson or two.

No Better Companions...

When you adopt a senior pet, you have an instant companion. Seniors are very grateful to have been given a second chance and are eager to bond with their new person. Senior animals also tend to settle in quicker with other animals. They have learned what it takes to get along and live in harmony with the rest of their "animal family".

Ultimate Snuggle-Buddies...

Senior pets are excellent at giving and receiving love. They have a soothing, gentle presence that has a calming effect like nothing else. You can go for a walk with a senior pet, without feeling like he or she is walking YOU. Seniors don't make the kind of demands on your time like younger pets do. They, instead, tend to "go with the flow". Seniors, just like us, also enjoy a good night's sleep.
